

HOBART COMBI BARCODE SCANNER

For the perfect meal every time, just scan and serve.

It might look like a simple barcode, but it's actually a delicious recipe for ricotta lasagna.

- > Use the scanner device to transmit your chicken cordon bleu recipe to the Hobart Combi Oven.

- > Print out your recipe preparation instructions with barcodes. All the operator has to do is scan and press Start.

Scan and press Start. A new dimension in ease of operation.

Now you can quickly and easily turn your every recipe into a barcode that your staff can simply scan for cooking in a Hobart Combi® Oven. All the operator has to do is press Start.

The combi oven automatically loads the cooking program and goes into preheat mode when the barcode is scanned. In fact, with its built-in Bluetooth® technology, you can transmit your barcode recipes to the combi oven with a Bluetooth-enabled computer, PDA or cell phone.

Once the product—lasagna, chicken, pork chops, fish fillets or any infinite number of recipes—is properly prepared by your staff, they just place it in the combi and press Start. The result is a delicious product cooked precisely the way you want it, even if you're thousands of miles away.

The Hobart Combi Barcode Scanner Software.

Its range is infinite. So is yours.

With Hobart's exclusive combi scanner software, you're no longer limited to the 100-recipe memory of the combi oven. In fact, you can create an infinite number of recipes, each linked to a unique barcode. That's because when you scan or transmit your barcode to the combi oven, you are literally sending the whole recipe to the oven.

As a result, your staff no longer has to scroll through the combi's control panel, push multiple buttons for operation or even become trained on the controls of a combi. The most recently scanned recipe is automatically selected, giving your staff more time to devote to other tasks, like preparing the product.

- > Store your recipes in folders—such as Chicken or Seafood, Southern Recipes or New England Favorites—for easy organization and retrieval.

scan, start,

Creating the perfect recipe.

Designed expressly for programming the Hobart Combi Oven, Hobart's scanner software guides you through all the phases (up to 10) of programming your recipe. At each phase, you can stipulate the mode of cooking (convection, steam or combination), the temperature setting, length of time or core probe function, humidity level and fan speed. Add another phase if your recipe requires it. When finished, simply save and transfer the program to the combi.

For complete cooking instructions, just press Print.

With Hobart's patent-pending combi barcode scanner system, you can print a list of your recipes—each with its unique barcode—for your staff to scan. You can also paste your recipe barcodes directly into a custom document, providing your staff with the recipe and full preparation instructions in one document.

The Hobart Scanner reads food and package barcodes, too.

Barcodes, of course, are ubiquitous. Every food package has one. Every box, too. Now you can link that barcode to a recipe stored in the combi for simply unheard-of speed and efficiency in preparing meals.

The Hobart Combi Barcode Scanner can turn almost anyone into a gourmet chef.

According to the U.S Department of Labor, 18% of foodservice workers are 16 to 19 years old, and 19% are 20 to 24 years of age. The numbers in food retail are very similar. Aside from microwave popcorn, many if not most of these foodservice workers probably haven't cooked much in their young lives.

With the Hobart Combi Barcode Scanner, you can more than compensate for their lack of cooking skills by putting the wealth of your knowledge and experience literally in the palm of their hand.
